About Artist

Born and brought up In the City of Nawabs, Lucknow; Animesh had a keen interest in singing, he participated in his first competition at a tender age of 5, thereafter he was present in many such events and competitions, many of which he won. As age caught up he seemingly lost his interest in singing and now what intrigued him was subject Chemistry though he resumed writing poetries and songs, He always had music running through his mind, but he never had means to bring it to being. He again turned to music when he was of age seventeen, that when he first discovered FL Studio, he would spend his hours behind the PC like a writer scribbling with his new stationary. He now was sure what he wanted from life cause he finally found a way to bring forth the music he had in his head for all these years, All he wants from this life is to let people hear the music and feel the pleasure, he knows music is capable of great many wonders and he just wants to be one of them. His latest show was at Taj Mohotsav, Agra With his band Broken Wings (now The Unusual Entities). He is founder of band The Unusual Entities and works with Bass Nomads(Vocalist/songwriter). His works available online are I love You and Alive again with some other covers on Youtube.
