About Slacklife Engage

Slacklife Engage is a brand new way to keep your audience/ crowds/ visitors engaged and entertained. Whether you want to reach out to them to create one on one interactions to promote your brand, or just have them flock around and give them a unique experience and sights that will have them wowed. We achieve all of this by the use of one activity and its various forms - i.e. Slacklining.

What is Slacklining?

Slacklining is the art of balancing on a 1-2 inch flat webbing tensioned between two solid anchor points such as trees, lamp posts or mountain cliffs. The 'slacker' can sit, stand, walk, jump, practice yoga, meditate... so on and so forth on the slackline, the possibilities are endless. Slacklining is something that never fails to capture the attention of those in the vicinity. It is an attraction to everyone alike. Be it a 5 year old child or his/her grand father who has brought their grandchild for an outing.

Team Slacklife Inc.

Slacklife Inc. is a firm dedicated to the sport of slacklining. We have some of the best slackline athletes in the country working with us. When it comes to performances, no other slackliners in India will turn as many heads as Slacklife Inc slackliners.

Our Slacker in-chief Samar Farooqui is a renowned slackliner and has been unlocking the potential of human balance for over 5 years. His journey on the slackline has been a center of focus for many newspaper articles and TV shows in India and New Zealand. Samar has travelled across the country to spread the sport of slacklining, teaching, conducting workshops and performing for brands as prestigious as American Express Winterfestival (NZ), Bike Festival of India, India's Got Talent, MTV India, Jawahar Institute of Mountaineering, Jamnalal Bajaj Institute of Management Studies and many such others.
